I am a driven individual currently working in Recruitment in an office environment two days a week while pursuing a LLB Law degree at the University of Central Lancashire, expecting to cease in 2026. With strong communication skills, I am comfortable engaging with others both in person and over the phone. I am dedicated and consistently deliver high-quality work, even under pressure, and I thrive in meeting tight deadlines. My goal is to become a qualified solicitor upon completing my degree, and I aim to achieve this through the SQE route. I am eager to secure a training contract with a respected law firm.

Experience

25TH JUNE 2022- PRESENT

Recruitment Assistant / Euro Garages, Blackburn

I issue out contracts of employment to candidates who have applied to jobs. This can be done after checking through Right to Work documentations which has been offered from Home Office, then progressing further onboard new starters and issuing payroll numbers. I am also able to chase outstanding new starter documentations with hiring managers and candidates by keeping the outstanding tracker accurate and updated which provides support to the Recruitment Coordinators too. This allows me to be involved with more, like reviewing and posting job requisitions, and assisting with project work.

13TH AUGUST 2021 – 21ST JUNE 2022

Sales Assistant / Sports Direct, Blackburn

I greet customers with a sincere welcome to ensure that they are aware I am here to help. I'm also able to recommend and select the correct merchandise for the customer's needs and make their shopping experience easier, by being fully updated on product knowledge. I also work on the tills receiving and processing cash and card transactions, whilst always maintaining a customer friendly environment and still communicating effectively with other colleagues.

24TH JULY 2021 – 10TH AUGUST 2021

Hospitality/ Blackburn Rovers, Blackburn

A catering assistant for high-end clients. I keep a very mature and exceptional mannerism whilst taking orders, delivering food and drinks to customers and report any issues to the manager. I also ensure the best service is provided and I clear the tables at the end. (zero- hour contract)

Activities

Participating in mooting as an extracurricular during Year 13 has been an invaluable experience, allowing me to develop my advocacy, public speaking, and legal research skills. Through preparing arguments and engaging in simulated court proceedings, I have gained a deeper understanding of legal principles while honing my ability to think critically and argue persuasively under pressure.

Engaging in sports as an extracurricular during Sixth Form has taught me the importance of teamwork, discipline, and perseverance. Whether competing individually or as part of a team, I've developed resilience, time management skills, and a strong work ethic that extends beyond the field and into my academic and personal life.

I began the Duke of Edinburgh Award at Blackburn Central High School in September 2019, looking forward to the opportunities for volunteering, skill development, and expeditions. Unfortunately, the COVID-19 pandemic disrupted the program, preventing us from completing it. However, the experience still allowed me to build important skills in teamwork, problem-solving, and personal growth during the time we were able to participate.

As a lead student at Blackburn Central High School, I took on a range of responsibilities, both independently and as part of a team, to ensure the school maintained its high standards. I also collaborated effectively with other students and teachers, even those who were less familiar with me, helping me develop essential life skills like communication. Additionally, as a Form Captain, I gained experience in managing large groups of students, issuing daily instructions, and addressing any concerns or problems they encountered.
